BALTIMORE & OHIO stock has fallen 105 bid, 109 asked, and it looks as if it might decline to par ere long. Low freights and the depression in business is telling on all the roads. The Pennsylvania road declined to 28; last Saturday but rose above 30 yesterday. Cleveland & Pittsburgh is quoted this morning at 80 and a fraction, bid. Its decline is, of course, speculative, as its dividend paying ability is not seriously questioned. The c Pennsylvania road has a possible big strike hanging over it, extending perhaps from New York to Chicago. It has, too, the competition of the New York Central, at $15 from Chicago to New York for passengers, to contend with. It is charged now that Vanderbilt made the first aggression by arranging of through connection with what was mere ly a local fast train over the Toledo and Wabash. Scott retorted by a similar to Europe, he left orders to cut rates, if the 23d ult. The quarrel awaits his return, which will be this week, he having already saited from Liverpool. The probability of his baving been abroad to arrange a steamship connection which should be peculiarly his own gains

The reduction of the rates on water transportation by lake and canal from Chicago to New York to about 61 cents a bushel for corn ought to satisfy any de mand for cheap transportation, even that of labor agitators who want the government to undertake it. When a bush el of grain can be transported a thousand miles for the same price that the government asks for carrying an ounce of mail matter between the same two points private enterprise would seem to be sufficiently vindicated. The present water are not so hotly competitive to the railroads as they would seem to be. In the first place the railroads take a good deal of grain direct from interior points to the sea board, without change; the lake ports is other words do not receive all the grain which passes to the east. Again, grain intended for consumption in the eastern states must be distributed, and this car est be done by rail. Thus between gathering at one end and distributing at the other, the railroads continue to absorb a large part of the grain carrying, besides the provision carrying, for which the water routes are too slow. The receipts of western produce at Boston last week were fully up to the receipts of the same week last year. Ocean freights have risen so as to absorb all that is gained in the low rates of water transportation,

TURKISH ARMY ORGANIZATION.

LONDON, Juno 5.—A letter from a Timez' correspondent with the Turkish army has the following particulars of its organization: The Turkish army of the Danube is slightly deficient in artillery and very deficient in cavalry. The cause of this is exclusively the want of money. The Turkish government has still over 400 breech-loading cannon lying idle at Constantinople for want of horses and harness, and there are multitudes of men well qualified to be cavalrymen, but there is no money to mount them. The armament of the troops is all that is perfect. The infantry have Henry rifles and the cavalry Winchester rifles. According to the most trustworthy information the present strength of the army of reserves in course of formation on the other side of the Balkans is 320 battalions of infantry, 72 aquadrons of horsemen, 300 cannon and about 8000 features.
